About us

Exchange, Education and Communication all in a global and intercultural context – it is with these in mind that aubiko was founded. aubiko e.V. is a non-profit and registered organisation and understands itself as cultural a mediator. It is our aim to enable encounters for intercultural understanding and contribute to international understanding.

Our areas of expertise include:

- The teaching of the German language at all levels (from basic to academic), including preparatory courses for university entrance level examinations (for example TestDaF)
- Student advisory services in relation to the application process, course requirement and German academic standards.
- Development of intercultural exchange through cross-border academic and cultural projects between universities.
- Experience with international high-school exchange programmes.
- University internationalisation projects.
- Delivery of intercultural competencies for global and internationally active companies and organisations through intercultural training seminars and coaching sessions.
- Comprehensive and constantly growing global network of educational partners

About the city

This weekend you can discover Hamburg - also called Germany's „gate to the world“! Hamburg is a great cultural centre. Enjoy the city centre with its old charms telling of the time when the Hanseatic League gave pride and power to the city's merchants. It gives you a feeling of the freedom and the liberty that Hamburg stands for, also today. The history of the Jungfernstieg is as interesting as the modern noble shopping avenue. A totally different side of the city is shown in the "alternative" Schanzenviertel. Many places in Hamburg are beautiful and reflect the Northern German way of doing things which is appealing to many Germans as well as to foreigners from all over the world. Many choose to stay in this striving city and Metropolitan area, because it has so much to offer culturally, professionally and concerning the standard of life.

Another reason to study in Hamburg is because the city is doing so well economically. Over 120,000 enterprises from around the world have settled in Hamburg, many of them in connection to the port. Their fields being logistics, life sciences, aeronautical industry, media, and information technology enterprises.

Overall, if you are considering studying abroad, Hamburg has several universities that you can choose from. They have great academic programs and a lot of culture for you to indulge in as well. Overall, Hamburg is a great choice for studying abroad, no matter where in the world that you are coming from.
