Christmas Weekend in Cologne

Cologne is an open city with historical and modern sights. The 2000 year old metropolis provides many historical buildings and interesting stories. Right next to the train station you can find the cologne cathedral which is one of the most visited sights in Germany and one of Europe's highest buildings. Not very far is the river Rhine, which is Germany's second longest river. Alongside its cost, we are going to take a nice winter walk. Cologne is also famous for its historic city centre full of tiny streets. From the observation deck called Cologne triangle, we can get a great view over the whole city. One of the most important things during German christmas season is of course the Christmas market. In Cologne there are many different markets during this time, for example in front of the Cologne cathedral, or at the Rudolfsplatz, where they provide a „Santa Claus village“. There you can buy your first Christmas gifts for your friends and host family and of course a lot of delicious food, like waffles, cookies and roasted almonds. Of course you are going to have a lot of time to see everything. And now the best: On Friday, we are going to have a Christmas party: on the one side completely German, and on the other side very international. To this weekend we invite all exchange students and their host siblings! This is a great opportunity to exchange experiences, to get to know more people from all over the world and to learn how they celebrate christmas.

We are going to pick up all participants from the train station in Cologne and we are going to help you organizing your trip. It would be great, if you arrive on Friday between 2pm and 6pm.
