

Education in Germany

Our Programmes for China

Why Germany?

Excellence: About 500 German universities offer excellent opportunities for studying and research.

No/ Low Fees: Unlike many other countries, no tuition fees are charged for undergraduate degrees at most of the public universities in Germany.

Career: Studying at a German university could be your first step towards a career in Germany. German companies are looking for university graduates in a variety of sectors – especially in the fields of engineering, medicine, sciences and information technology. A German degree is highly recognized all over the world.

Quality of Life: Germany is famous for its prosperity. If you study here, you will not only find Europe's most dynamic economy. Germany is also a very safe country, with a high standard of living, a rich cultural history and beautiful cities and countryside.

Germany has public and private universities. They are usually divided into universities, universities of applied sciences and colleges of art, film and music. About 95 percent of the universities are financed by the government and are therefore state-funded. Only 5 percent of the institutions of higher education are private universities.

After the US and Great Britain Germany is the most popular location for studying abroad. Every tenth student is an international. In total we have more than 300.000 internationals.

Which University is the right one

Anyone looking to study in Germany is spoiled for choice. There are many different types of universities, all of which provide outstanding quality.

There is no answer you can find via internet- it depends on your profile, your talents and your intention. Which university is the right one for you, we will help you to find out - during your Foundation Year or Language Course.

English or German?

- To get a job in Germany is very easy if you have an education, BUT you need German for getting a job in Germany -> also if you decide to study in English, you should learn German!
