

Boarding School in Germany

If you are interested in studying in Germany, you may consider a boarding school to be your pathway into university. For visiting a boarding school and passing the „Abitur“, you need to know German on level B1 – if you start in 9th grade – and on level B2 – if you start in 10th grade. It’s not possible to start at one of the following German boarding schools in 11th grade. If you need a language course in advance, you can book that extra. For visiting a boarding school and passing the „Abitur“ you need to know German on level B1 if you start in 9th grade and on level B2 if you start in 10th grade.

The following services we offer here is an application service and a perfect addition to your language course or high school exchange program.

Boarding School

For us a boarding school is more than a school: it is a second home. Our students will become a part of Germany. Besides studying for school, you will have lots of opportunities and activities. Teachers and students do not only interact inside the classroom but are also living and spending their free time with leisure activities together. All schools are located in a beautiful area and offer everything students need to have a great time in Germany.

The special point about the program is that we always choose a “real German” high school. This means, that the schools we cooperate with are visited mostly by Germans and a few international students. In Germany many boarding schools are very international. We focus on those who are made for Germans and welcome internationals. Therefore you get a better chance to become part of Germany and get prepared much better for your studies at University. On top of this, those schools are non-profit and the quality is very high. The difficult point about those boarding schools is to get a seat. Webpages are in German and they only take a few students per year.

In order to get a seat, you need to pass an oral interview in German. Passing the interview is more a cultural challenge than something you can read in books. This makes it very difficult to apply for internationals. Our service is to place you at such a boarding school and to prepare you for passing the interview successfully.

Boarding School 1: Pädagogium Bad Sachsa

Bad Sachsa is located in the beautiful nature of the region Harz, close to the student city Göttingen. The Pädagogium is characterized not only by German students but by a great diversity of international students from all over the world. It offers a place of residence for only 50 students, which makes the living together very familiar. Due to the small amount of students, the educators are able to carry a lot for each one and their individual problems.

Normally the students live, separated by gender, in two-shared bedrooms until they reach 12th grade. Then, they are allowed to move into a single bedroom in order to prepare in privacy and without interruption for the examination.

After classes there are a lot of options: students can do some sports at the soccer court, the beach volleyball court and the gym. From time to time the whole boarding school is used to do some activities together, like visiting a theatre or a cinema, enjoying the mystical flair of a German Christmas market or having fun at a theme park. Besides these activities, students have the possibility to discover the impressive landscape of the region Harz in small groups by camping, canoeing and skiing in and through the wild nature.

Boarding School 2: Lietz-Internat Schloss Bieberstein

The Lietz-Internat Schloss Bieberstein is located in Hofbieber, which is right inside the Rhön mountains close to the city Fulda. It accommodates 125 students in small families of ten; but only from 10th to 13th grade! Therefore the young adults enjoy a less regularized surrounding and are even allowed to use internet in their bedrooms. Students can determine their own education by choosing between 12 and 13 of school years until examination and E-International, which enables the students to spend a year abroad in Nepal or South Africa. International students are friendly welcomed and well integrated in the boarding school. To simplify potential communication problems, the school offers remedial courses like “German as foreign language” and a language pre-course.

The school provides a various spectrum of sports activities, like climbing, horse riding lessons, golf, basket ball and beach volleyball. Not only sports but also cultural activities are supported by a weekly cultural evening. On Wednesday evening, the students enjoy concerts, lectures, visit museums or arrange their own program. Once a year the family of ten students and their supervising house parents go on vacation to gather new impressions and strengthen the family bond.

If you are interested in spending an unforgettable time at Schloss Bieberstein and need further information, visit <https://www.internat-schloss-bieberstein.de> or ask us for a brochure.

Boarding School 3: Haubinda

The boarding school village Haubinda is located in the middle of 90 hectares of meadows and forest in Thuringia, the green heart of Germany. Groups of eight to ten students with two educationists live together in communities – the so-called "families" – on the campus in their own apartments and houses. Apart from lessons and extracurricular activities, the students learn how to handle natural resources. A common bakery, a market garden with greenhouse, a large farm yard and a workshop for wood and metal working – all of these are features of living in Haubinda.

Of course, the students are also very well cared for during routine school hours. Small classes ensure optimum individual fostering of every student. If a student needs additional lessons or help in a particular area, the experienced team of educationists is always at hand. A special infrastructure and an individualized integration program were created for foreign students, i.e. to receive extra German lessons.

Regardless of whether it is choir, theatre or drawing, life at boarding school village Haubinda is also enriched by cultural highlights. Another focus is sports: in addition to regular sports hours there is an extensive and varied offering of sports activities on the schedule. The huge sports field next to the school building is popular for playing football. Also badminton, volleyball, basketball, archery, fitness and athletics, strength and endurance, track and field, riding, swimming, tennis, table-tennis and Zumba are available for selection. Boarding School 4: Privates Aufbaugymnasium Iserlohn

The boarding school of Iserlohn offers the best location for adventurous students. It is located close to the beautiful nature of the Sauerland, its mountains and lakes as well as to various bigger cities like Köln, Dortmund and Wuppertal. About 80 Students live in private or two-shared bedrooms, separated by gender, and have the possibility to relax during their leisure time in the cosy living room or have fun with other students in the playroom. The modern technical accoutrement of the class rooms, the well skilled teachers and educationists and the intensive advancement in small learning-groups guarantee the best preparation for examination. Therefore, the boarding school has got a passing rate of about 90 percent.

During their leisure time, students have many possibilities: they can relax by the lake or exploit at the horse riding arena or swimming pool. Students are able to chose between numerous sports, like tennis, volleyball, basketball, motor sports, billiard and many more. But the boarding school is most famous for its unique ice-hockey program.

In higher school years, students will visit some European cities like London and Barcelona to broaden their minds.

Boarding School 5: Zinzendorf Internat

The Zinzendorf Internat is located in the wide area of Schwarzwald, one of the most lovely regions of Germany and pretty close to France and Austria. It houses only 80 students in one and double-shared bedrooms, which makes the living together very familiar. The students are separated by gender in two houses, which have got a sauna, a gym, a billiard room, living rooms and a kitchen for students of higher semesters.

Besides the variety of specializations, like languages, science or media design, the boarding school offers the participation in social, artistic and theater pedagogical projects. Students can also participate in an exchange program with France, Spain and Morocco if they would like to make the experience of visiting a non-German school.

The Zinzendorf Internat enables the students to live out their creativity in three different choirs, a jazz band as well as literature-, theater- and art working groups. But students are also encouraged to do sports and outdoor activities, like soccer, volleyball, horse riding, archery, sailing, golf and dart. All those activities are from time to time presented in publicity as concerts or artistic projects for prettifying the city and environment of Zinzendorf.

Boarding School 6: Internat CJD Rostock

The Internat CJD Rostock is located in the North of Germany, only a few kilometres from the sea. The 60 students live together in small three-shared tenant groups in overall four accommodation units of 15. Younger students normally share a bedroom while the students of higher semesters inhabit a private bedroom. There is also one accommodation unit of self-supporters with kitchens in each tenant group.

Besides the ordinary education classes, high talented students and competitive athletes receive a special-need-education in separate classes. The boarding school offers a great variety of working groups for interested students in the fields of sports, technique- and event management, informatics, language and communication, art, music, theatre and many more. Whenever students do not spend their time at school or at the working groups, they can enjoy their leisure time by doing sports or chilling in the TV- or billiard-room.

The Internat CJD Rostock offers an optional trial week for students who are uncertain whether a boarding school is the right option for them.
