

Digital student encounter and language trip

Digital student encounter and language trip

aubiko e.V. is a non-profit registered association based in Hamburg and stands for intercultural encounters. Schools around the world work with us because we combine learning German with youth exchanges. In recent years we have welcomed numerous groups and school classes, and there has always been a meeting with young German individuals. Whether its a joint project on topics such as environmental protection and sustainability, startups and the start-up scene, 30 years of the fall of the Berlin Wall and reunification, Germany's art and culture scene or intercultural music and sports encounters - our approach is that young individuals learn the language best when they are in Germany and can interact with young people of their own age.

However, a trip to Germany is not always possible - the corona virus pandemic has proved this to us. Therefore we now want to enable digital encounters so that students around the world can take part in German courses that combine language learning, regional studies, and exchanges with peers!

That's why we offer online regional studies modules on various topics, which your students can virtually take with them to Germany where they can solve tasks and ask questions and intensively engage with the German language. And the most important thing: Your students will have the opportunity to contact German students and communicate and exchange ideas! They will also be able to get to know the port of Hamburg with us, take a walk through the old Hanseatic city of Lübeck, and meet new young people of their own age from Hamburg and Lübeck! We offer modules on various regional studies topics, which are supplemented by additional practice materials for all four skills as well as grammatical structures.

Each digital student meeting and language trip contains 10 modules of 90 minutes each and costs 90,00- Euro per participant (minimum 15 participants). Smaller groups and individual lessons on request.

10 Modules Student Meeting and Language Travel

Hamburg:

1. The port of Hamburg and the Elbe tunnel
2. Speicherstadt, the Hafencity and the Elbphilharmonie Concert Hall
3. Communicating with young people from Hamburg about hobbies and leisure activities
4. The Hamburg art and culture scene
5. Studying in Hamburg

Lübeck:

6. Lübeck's old town and the Gängeviertel
7. The history of the Hanseatic League
8. Lübeck Nobel Prize winner
9. Speaking with students from Lübeck about everyday life in school
10. Lübecks marzipan

Or would you prefer to take a walk with us through Berlin and talk to Berlin's youth about German history and everyday Berlin culture? Or would you like to get to know Bremen's city history and the Bremen Town Musicians as well as young people from Bremen?

We are looking forward to your topic requests and suggestions and will gladly try to implement them!
Please contact us!

Our Service

- Learning package "Digital student encounter and language travel" with 10 modules of 90 minutes each
- Participation in the selection of topics and the time frame
- Currently experienced geography
- Getting to know each other and conversing with young German teenagers as well as adults on various topics
- Diverse interactive learning materials for all four skills and selected grammar topics
- Guidance and support by experienced DaF teachers
- On request, preparation for a "real" student encounter

About Us

Exchange, education and communication in a global and intercultural context - aubiko e.V. was founded with this goal. aubiko e.V. is a non-profit registered association and an intermediary organization for foreign cultural work. We, the members of aubiko e.V., have been professionally active abroad in the fields of education, research and exchange in recent years. Since 2001 we have worked for the DAAD, the German Foreign Office, schools abroad, foreign universities and other educational institutions in the areas of university marketing, student exchange, language mediation, study preparation and study counselling as well as international project management. It is our concern:

1. To enable encounters for intercultural understanding. This applies to projects for both students in school as well as university.
2. To offer internationalization concepts for German universities. Here we focus on the focal points
University marketing, study preparation, and study support.

Our expertise covers the following areas in particular:

- Intercultural projects between German and foreign universities in the scientific and cultural field
- Intercultural projects between German and foreign schools in the field of communication and international understanding
- Educational trips for students in school and university from Germany and all over the world
- Teaching of the German language at all levels as well as preparation for study-relevant exams
- Communication of the German science, learning and everyday culture
- Student counseling about application processes, study requirements and scientific standards of the German university landscape
- Internationalization of universities
- Mediation of intercultural competence for globally and internationally operating companies and companies at home and abroad through intercultural training and coaching
- Extensive and steadily growing network of educational partners worldwide

Our Team

